

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From January 9 to January 10, 2021, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1129 likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is  $\pm 2.9$  percentage points.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

The expansion of unemployment insurance due to the coronavirus pandemic was too generous. Some workers make more than they would make at their jobs, which will discourage them from going back to work. We need to reduce or end this temporary expansion of unemployment insurance.	33	18	30	52	34	32	28	36	32	35	18	22	37
The expansion of unemployment insurance due to the coronavirus pandemic was necessary and by putting money in people's pockets it stimulated economic growth, kept families out of poverty and stopped businesses from going bankrupt. We need to continue it until the unemployment rate returns to where it was before the pandemic.	60	75	61	41	57	62	63	58	59	60	73	65	57
