

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From February 12 to February 15, 2021, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1169 likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ± 2.9 percentage points.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

[1] Some workers at Amazon are proposing to form a union to bargain with the company on working conditions, such as improved break times and coronavirus health and safety measures. Do you support or oppose Amazon workers forming a union to bargain on working conditions?

[3] Currently Amazon is trying to stop its employees from unionizing. The company has put up flyers, created mandatory meetings and sent text messages all which tell workers to vote "no" to forming a union. When thinking about this, what comes closer to your view?

These actions should be stopped. Workers should be able to make the decision to form or not form a union without intimidation and harassment from their employers.	59	69	61	45	64	53	61	58	60	58	62	57	59
Amazon is not doing anything wrong. The company is just providing resources so that workers can understand the pros and cons of joining a union.	30	20	32	40	23	37	26	32	27	35	22	24	32
