

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From May 17 to 19, 2024, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,213 U.S. likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and 2020 recalled vote. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error associated with the sample size is ± 3 percentage points. Results for subgroups of the sample are subject to increased margins of error. Partisanship reflected in tabulations is based on self-identified party affiliation, not partisan registration. For more information please visit <https://dataforprogress.org/our-methodology>.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=1,213 unless otherwise specified.

[5] Since 2022, there has been an outbreak of avian influenza, also known as H5N1 or bird flu, in the U.S. that has spread to poultry farms and, recently, dairy cattle. There have been two confirmed cases of bird flu in human workers who were in close contact with infected animals.

How concerned, if at all, are you about avian influenza becoming widespread in the U.S.?

[6] Some health experts have recommended that the federal government take action to ban the sale of foods made from raw dairy products, like raw milk and cheeses made from raw milk, in order to reduce the risk of avian influenza spreading through foods.

Would you support or oppose the federal government banning foods made from raw dairy products?
