

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From March 21 to 22, 2025, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 537 U.S. likely voters who identify as Democrats or Democratic-leaning Independents nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and recalled presidential vote. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error associated with the sample size is  $\pm 4$  percentage points. Results for subgroups of the sample are subject to increased margins of error. Partisanship reflected in tabulations is based on self-identified party affiliation, not partisan registration. For more information please visit dataforprogress.org/our-methodology.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=537 unless otherwise specified.

[4] Last week, Senate Democratic Leader Chuck Schumer voted for the spending bill package backed by President Trump and Republicans in Congress, sparking criticism from within the Democratic Party.

Some Democrats believe this vote is a betrayal of the party's principles and want Schumer replaced as Senate Democratic leader. Other Democrats believe it was the least bad option and prevented a government shutdown.

Now that you know this information, which of the following comes closest to your view?
